EDITOR'S MESSAGE

By: State Deputy, Bruce S. Poulin

This will be my last message as the Editor of the State Bulletin. Brother Marcel Gauvin, who has held this position before, will resume this position and we will be well served by his writing acumen, in both official languages, and I wish him Godspeed.

As we begin a new Fraternal year, I need not remind our brother Knights about the importance of membership. This must not be seen as just a case for growing the order, rather its main driving force is to help as many Catholic men and boys make society a better place for their families to live freely in a more prosperous tomorrow. This distinction is important: we are structured to help all Catholic men. They are our customers and our primary focus. It's about service to others and not about the Order itself.

As we strive to help other Catholic men, our parishes and communities, we need to be innovative in what has become a very competitive and secular society with a seemingly endless supply of organizations competing for the same volunteers.

One way to become more competitive and innovative is to share ideas and success stories. Seen from this perspective, it should be the determination of every member, new and old, to subscribe to the Ontario State Bulletin. Only through this medium of our own published word can we gather a conception of what the organization is doing everywhere throughout Ontario.

The Knights of Columbus has reiterated time and time again at its Annual State Convention that it desires to operate the State Bulletin for the purposes of presenting to Catholic men clear and unvarnished facts on Catholic matters. That being so, the Knights of Columbus – and that means every member of the organization in Ontario – has a direct and definite obligation to subscribe 100 percent of its paid-up membership and read the State Bulletin. So be it.

Year in Review: Ontario Knights of Columbus Celebrate a Year of Success

By: State Deputy, Marcel Lemmen

As the Fraternal Year draws to a close, we look back on twelve months filled with remarkable achievements, unwavering dedication to the mission of the Knights of Columbus in Ontario, and a strong sense of service to our Church and community. Throughout the 2022 - 2023 Fraternal Year, we have demonstrated our commitment to faith, family, and service, leaving an indelible mark on the lives of countless individuals across the province.

One of the highlights of the year was a very successful Wheelchair Program where we raised funds and delivered 272 Wheelchairs to Ukraine, in partnership with the Canadian Wheelchair Foundation, and in record time. This initiative was launched at our April 2022 State Convention. It usually takes a year and a half to raise the money and deliver the wheelchairs to their destination; however, the response from Councils and individuals to the plight of disabled Ukrainians was so great that the money was raised in under four months. Our CWF partners sourced the wheelchairs in Europe which slashed shipping times. The wheelchairs arrived in Lucknow, Poland by mid-September and were in Lviv, Ukraine a few weeks later: an incredibly short five months from launch to delivery! Our Brother Knights in Ukraine have been distributing wheelchairs to the needy in that war-torn country ever since. European wheelchairs are more expensive than the ones we usually source and we are very grateful to Supreme Council for making up the difference in cost!

The Knights of Columbus also made significant contributions to charitable causes throughout our province. We set a new record for the number of coats distributed this past winter in our Coats for Kids Program: 8,784 across the province. Besides providing warm winter coats to needy kids, this program is also a collaboration between our Councils, General Agents and Field Agents and does much to promote goodwill and cooperation between our Fraternal and Insurance Programs.

Our Ontario State 50/50 Lottery raised funds for Homeless Shelters, Food Banks, and Special Olympics across Ontario last year while returning a majority of the funds raised to participating Councils for their charitable distribution. Council's unwavering commitment to helping the less fortunate was exemplified through their numerous fundraising events, which benefitted Parishes and various charitable organizations. From food drives to clothing donations and disaster relief efforts, Ontario Knights went above and beyond to lend a helping hand to those facing adversity. Their generosity and selflessness inspired others to join our noble cause, further amplifying the impact of their charitable endeavours.

Year in Review: Ontario Knights of Columbus Celebrate a Year of Success

By: State Deputy, Marcel Lemmen

Moreover, the Ontario Knights of Columbus spearheaded several community initiatives that fostered a sense of unity and fellowship. Our Basketball Free Throw Competition reappeared after the pandemic hiatus and attracted over 18,000 participants this year! Ottawa Council 485 solicited support from Councils across the province for their "Under One Roof" fundraiser to help the Jobin family of Barry's Bay care for their disabled daughter. Their success was featured in a June 2023 Columbia magazine article.

In recognition of their exceptional service, many Councils in Ontario received accolades throughout the year. Their dedication and commitment to our Order's core principles have not gone unnoticed, and we anticipate that many of them will be honoured with the prestigious Star Council Award. This recognition highlights a Council's excellence in leadership, programming, recruitment, and charitable endeavours, cementing its position as a force for good in the province.

In addition to charitable and community efforts, Ontario Knights made significant strides in promoting our Catholic faith and values. Our travelling St. Joseph Pilgrim Icon Program reached many Parishes across the province with prayer and devotion to the Patron Saint of Canada. Holy Hours, a Lenten Spiritual Retreat and Monthly Virtual Rosary were broadcast via the internet to Ontario and around the world. Through various faith formation programs, Councils provided members with opportunities for spiritual growth and deepening their understanding of Catholic teachings. These initiatives not only strengthened the faith of individuals but also fostered a sense of unity and solidarity among the Knights.

Looking ahead to the coming year, the Knights of Columbus of Ontario are well positioned to expand our reach under the leadership of State Deputy Bruce Poulin, and all Officers of our State Board. The members in Ontario, through their convention delegates, have done a great job in electing a superb team of men to lead the province this year. I wish the new board every success as we prepare to celebrate the 125th Anniversary of Columbianism in Ontario!

In conclusion, the Ontario Knights of Columbus can proudly reflect on a year filled with remarkable achievements and unwavering dedication. Through our commitment to faith, family, and service, we have left an indelible mark on the lives of countless individuals and families across the province. I am incredibly proud of our members! As we move forward, our unwavering spirit and commitment to our mission will undoubtedly continue to inspire and uplift parishes and communities, making Ontario a better place for all.

Born on his mother's birthday August 21, 1961, in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Joseph Bayda became the third of six children that God entrusted to his parents Joseph and Florence (Niedzielski) Bayda.

Bishop Bryan particularly loves writing songs and his Redemptorist training deepened his thirst for preaching as he encourages others to be Missionary Disciples.

The motto on his coat of arms - You Will Be My Witnesses - is based on Acts 1:8 "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and You Will Be My Witnesses."

A special devotion to Mary as the Mother of Perpetual Help and as Our Lady of Guadalupe sustains him in his Ukrainian Catholic faith since She is key in understanding the Good News of Jesus Christ.

On May 2, 2008, Pope Benedict XVI appointed him as Bishop and on June 27, 2008, he was ordained bishop of the Eparchy of Saskatoon covering the province of Saskatchewan.

On November 9, 2019, he was appointed Apostolic Administrator of the Eparchy of Toronto and Eastern Canada. On June 27, 2022, he was emeritus of Saskatoon and enthroned as Eparch of the Eparchy of Toronto and Eastern Canada.

Bishop Bayda has served on the Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops as a member of the Episcopal Commission for Doctrine (2011-2017) and the Consultor of the Commission for Evangelization and Catechesis (2017 - 2020). He was elected to represent the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church bishops at the 2018 Papal Synod in Rome on Youth, Faith, and Vocational Discernment.

During his 14 years in Saskatoon, he served a total of 10 years as the Knights of Columbus State Chaplain for Saskatchewan.

In late June 2023, the Association of Catholic Bishops of Ontario (ACBO) agreed to appoint Bishop Bayda to a new position for the Ontario State Council - Associate State Chaplain. In this capacity, Bishop Bayda would help our returning State Chaplain Archbishop Marcel Damphousse support as many activities and events as possible as we begin preparations leading up to the 125th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus in Ontario in 2025.

125th Anniversary Jewel

By Joe Mathews, Vice Supreme Master

Worthy Sirs,

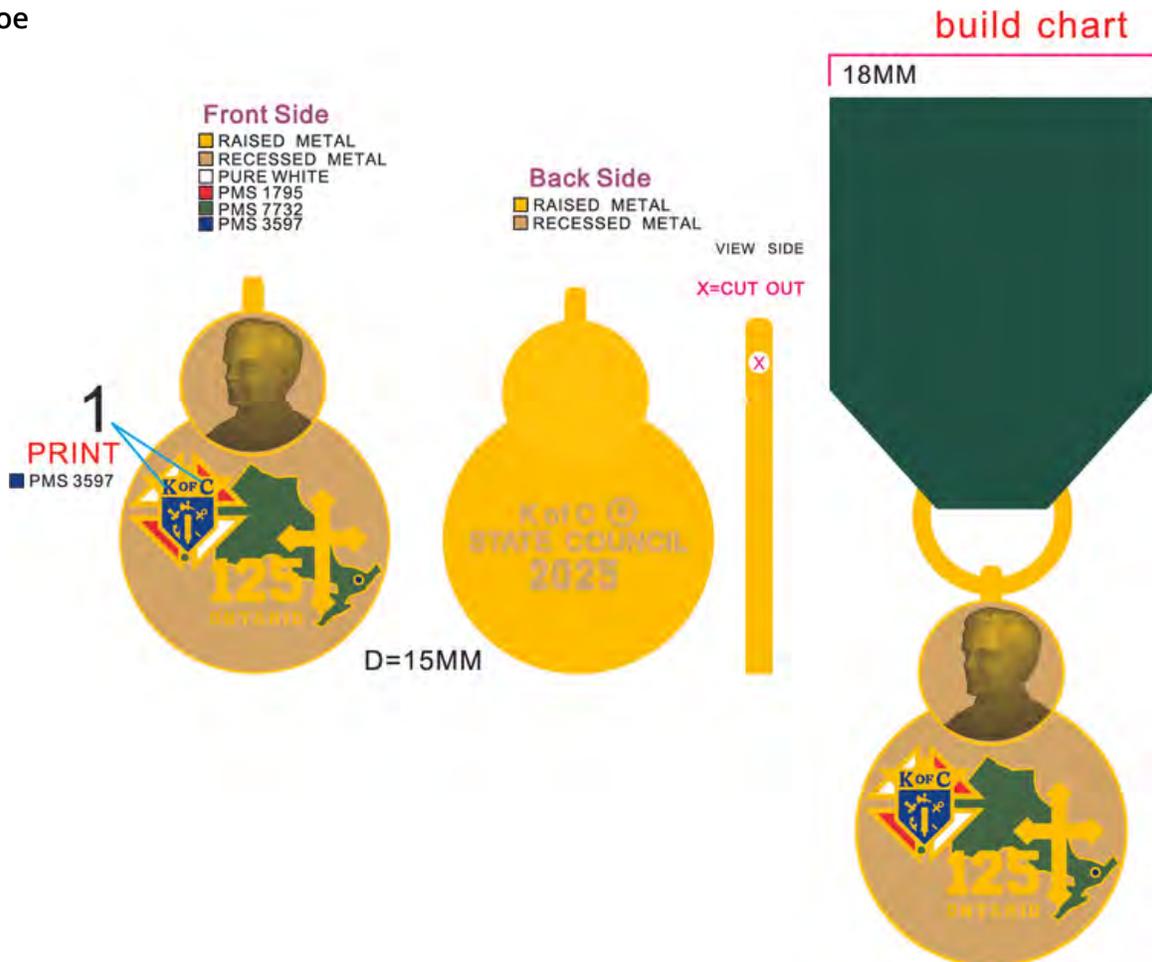

The Knights of Columbus in Ontario will be celebrating its 125th Anniversary in 2025 and to commemorate this important occasion, in the next two years, the Ontario State Council will be making available a miniature jewel.

I believe that this miniature jewel will be a popular item and will be worn proudly by both 3rd and 4th degree members across the province.

As it pertains to the Fourth Degree, to answer the question that will surely be asked, "When can I wear this miniature jewel?" The only restriction with regards to wearing this miniature jewel is that it cannot be worn on the official uniform of the Fourth Degree as outlined in the Color Corps Drill Manual.

Should you have any questions regarding the wearing of this miniature jewel, please feel free to contact me.

Fraternally,
S. K. Joe

Renovations for the State Office

By: State Secretary, Bruce Poulin

In January 2023, the State Board adopted an ambitious plan to renovate and repurpose some of the office space currently being leased by the Ontario State Office. This decision was precipitated by the departure of the Neil Bouvier Insurance Agency in September 2022 which had been a subtenant of some of our office space for several years.

The lease agreement did not allow for us to sub rent to any other entity except for a Knights of Columbus agency or organization. Therefore, it was decided to make the office space more efficient and practical.

State Deputy office

J.P. Dunne Board Room.

To that end, the project included three major projects. First, was the creation of a meeting room which will be named the JP Dunne Boardroom in honour of the first Canadian State Deputy for Ontario (1902-1904). This new board room can accommodate the entire State Board as well as VIPs and some directors if needed. This will save on renting office space in hotels when the State Board and various directors meet in Hamilton. This decision also allowed for greater space in our warehouse room so that we may carry more inventory and increase our sales.

The second major project was the establishment of an office for the State Deputy. Currently, visiting State Deputies use a table and a cafeteria chair in one of the employee offices. This made it very awkward for everyone. To compound this situation, the State Board officers also recognized that a more permanent office setting would be needed to accommodate future State Deputies who may not live close to the Hamilton area and will be coming to Hamilton for a couple of days at a time. The new State Deputy office will allow for more professional meetings and business dealings.

The third and final major project was to move the servers from their current location, which was in a common area, to a more secure room, away from the public eye and therefore provide further protection against intrusion, sabotage or breach of privacy information held at the State Office.

Saint Kateri Tekakwitha (1656 – 1680)

By Faith Pillar Director: Joseph Remedios

As a long-standing tradition within the Order, our new State Deputy, Brother Bruce Poulin, who recently took office on July 1, 2023, has dedicated his term to the ‘Lily of the Mohawks’ – Saint Kateri Tekakwitha.

With this issue of the State Bulletin being the first under Brother Bruce’s leadership as our Ontario State Deputy, it is only appropriate that this background information is provided, so that all Brother Knights in Ontario have a better understanding, and ultimately, develop a deeper relationship, with Saint Kateri Tekakwitha:

Kateri Tekakwitha (baptized Catherine), known as the “Lily of the Mohawks,” is the first North American Aboriginal person to be elevated to sainthood.

Prior to the Covid-19 pandemic, every year, an estimated 25,000 people visit a little shrine in Kahnawake, (near Montréal) dedicated to Saint Kateri. It is estimated that more than 300 books in 20 languages have been written about Saint Kateri since her death. Not to mention that several High Schools in Ontario are dedicated to her.

Background

Her life was both short and relatively “normal” and unremarkable. What really stood out occurred at the time of her death when witnessed noticed something very unusual – her transfiguration. Since then, thousands of miracles have been claimed by pilgrims to the site.

It is known that she was born in 1656 in an Iroquois village called “Ossernon” (now Auriesville, New York). Her father was an Iroquois chief. Her mother, an Algonquin from Trois-Rivières, Québec, had been taken prisoner by the Chief during one of their tribal wars and subsequently married her. Kateri’s tribe was decimated by smallpox between 1661-62. Her father, mother and younger brother all died from the disease leaving her an orphan. She survived but was permanently scared all over her face as a result. Her eyes were so weakened from the disease that she had to wear a blanket (shawl) over her head to keep direct sunlight away from her eyes for the rest of her life.

Saint Kateri Tekakwitha (1656 – 1680)

In 1666, her village was burned down by French Forces during a punitive expedition. So, she went to live with her aunt and uncle, a Mohawk Chief in Fonda, N.Y. Following the arrival of three Jesuit missionaries, one of whom was Jacques de Lamberville, Kateri asked to be baptized a Christian. What followed was 6 months of catechization and her baptism on Easter April 18th, 1676. She was 20 years old. She was given the Christian name of Catherine in honour of Catherine of Siena, a 15th century Italian mystic. Following her conversion, her adoptive parents and her tribe ridiculed her and called her “the Christian” which, at that time, was a term of disdain[i]. She also refused to accept any arranged marriages and work on Sundays[ii]. At times, she was pelted with rocks, and mud, deprived of food and jeered. She was subsequently threatened with torture. One year after her conversion to Christianity she fled her village.

She fled her home, with the help of a visiting Oneida Chief in 1677. She made her way to the St. Francis Xavier Mission at Sault St. Louis, New France, now Kahnawake, Quebec which was a haven for First Nations who had accepted the Christian Faith. On March 25th, 1679, she asked the mission priest Father Pierre Cholenec (1641-1721) to administer her vow of perpetual chastity thus becoming the first native-born North American Indigenous maiden to do so[iii].

While at the mission, she could often be seen walking barefoot and in chains in the snow to prove her devotion. Other times, she would engage in self-flagellation. Father Pierre Cholenec mentioned in a confidential letter to his superiors that Catherine was surrounded by a mysterious light during these sessions of self-flagellation, which he had never seen or encountered before. Her intense version of Catholic mystic asceticism also included frequent fasts, swimming in the St-Lawrence River in the winter and placing hot coals between her toes until they burned out[iv].

Saint Kateri Tekakwitha (1656 – 1680)

In the Spring of 1680, she predicted that she would die during Holy Week[i]. She died on Holy Wednesday April 17th, 1680. Father Cholenec, her confessor, who had also witnessed her death wrote: “But within a few minutes of her death, she became, almost instantly, very beautiful and fair.[ii]” By 1715, Father Cholenec wrote that all French people and Aboriginal had a great veneration for her, calling her Saint Kateri, and many have been healed on the spot. Her remains came to rest in St. Francois Xavier Church in Kahnawake in 1717. From there a group took half of her remains (including her skull) to St. Regis Catholic Church, Quebec (now called Akwesasne). Regrettably, this church burned, and the relics were destroyed with it in the fire[iii].

Father Claude Chauchetière (1645-1709), who also worked at the mission wrote: “Everything which she had touched, for example, the crucifix which he had in her hand when they buried her, has served to work cures. Even her coverlet, the earth around her tomb, the little plate from which she ate, have wrought certain healings.[iv]”

She was so revered in the area around Montréal, that even the gigantic Saint Lawrence Seaway construction plans had to work around and avoid disturbing her burial site which was relatively close to the Saint Lawrence River[v].

Sainthood

She passed the first step toward sainthood on January 3rd, 1943, when Pope Pius XII bestowed the title of venerable upon her. Pope John Paul II beatified her on June 22nd, 1980.

December 19th, 2011, Pope Benedict XVI acknowledged a miracle attributed to Catherine, that of healing a young boy in Washington State in 2006. The boy, Jake Finkbonner, had contracted necrotizing fasciitis; also known as “flesh-eating disease” and was cured after Blessed Kateri was asked to intervene through prayer and holding a relic of her to his chest. On October 21st, 2012, Blessed Kateri was elevated to sainthood and became the first North American Indigenous person to be canonized.

Saint Kateri Tekakwitha (1656 – 1680)

Saint Kateri is not Canadian, and she is not American. She is North American because she was part of both the Algonquin and Mohawk tribes which were part of the Six Nations Iroquois Confederation which had, at its apex, ran from the shores of the Saint Lawrence River to the Laurentian mountains to the North and Albany, N.Y., to the South.

Her feast day, 17 April, was entered into the liturgical calendar of the Catholic Church in 1980.

Why I joined the knights

By Bro. Ethan J. Bubba

BEING BORN INTO A FAMILY with a proud Italian heritage, my great-grandfather Sir Knight Tomasso Bubba was strong in the Catholic Faith. Sadly, the rest of my immediate family have lapsed in the practice of the Faith, which led me to become religiously indifferent, and at times, hostile towards religion. When I was thirteen, I started to become curious about religion, and after much searching, I began following Protestant beliefs.

When my great-grandfather passed away, the Honour Guard prayed the Rosary at his wake, and at his funeral I received his Faithful Navigator's sword. These experiences moved me deeply and sparked a desire for the practical Christian life which was exemplified by the men they call Knights. Soon after, I embraced the Catholic Faith and returned to communion with the Catholic Church.

I was inspired by my great-grandfather's practical Catholicism and became determined to join the Knights of Columbus and serve the Church in his footsteps; this decision stayed with me through high school and into university. As a new parishioner at St. Clement Parish in Ottawa, I saw the local Knights of Columbus in action.

Before a Sunday sermon, my pastor announced that the Knights were organizing a Hike-for-Life. When I left the church doors, I met the Knights and expressed my interest in serving the Church by taking a leading role in parish events and defending my Catholic Faith in the world today. Later that day I was invited to join the Knights, and I answered the call to action!

My Exemplification of Charity, Unity and Fraternity ignited my passion for our Order—I entered a room of strangers and left with a band of brothers dedicated to serving the Church and defending Catholic family life.

Today, I have the honour and privilege of serving my Council as our Lecturer and Faith Director—and more importantly—have discovered what it means to be a practical Catholic, actively involved in my parish and local community.

I encourage all practical Catholic men who have a desire to serve the Church, better their local parishes, and defend the Catholic Faith in their communities to answer the call to action and join the Knights of Columbus today!

Why should we be concerned about Life?

By Life Director Alex Schadenberg

There are several important Life programs such as: Aid and Support after Pregnancy (ASAP) program, Roses for Life, March for Life, Special Olympics, Christian Refugee Relief and more, but why are the Knights of Columbus so committed to life?

Our faith teaches us that human life is a gift from God and that we should cherish and protect it. This is a central theme of our faith. I found my inspiration in our Saviour's parable of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10: 25 - 37).

Remember, the parable of the Good Samaritan was a response from Christ to a challenge by an expert in the law who asked him: "Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

Our Lord responds by telling the story of the Good Samaritan. We all know the story, but the Samaritan went above and beyond in caring for a stranger. Further to that, Samaritans were not loved and respected by the Jewish people.

The ending of the parable gives us our direction as to why Life programs are important. The Lord asks the expert in the law: "Which of these three do you think was a neighbour to the man who fell into the hands of robbers?" The expert in the law replied, "The one who had mercy on him." Jesus told him, "Go and do likewise."

When we participate in the Life Programs we are fulfilling Christ's mission to us: "Go and do likewise."

In particular, we want every council to participate in the ASAP program in some way. We suggest that this can be accomplished by combining the Roses for Life program with the ASAP program. By participating in the Roses for Life program the council can raise money for donating to a qualified pregnancy center or maternity home. If a council cannot donate $500 the council should combine efforts with another council in their District.

Remember, for every $500 donated to an approved pregnancy center or maternity home, Supreme will top up the donation and donate $100 to the same charity. The maximum per year is $2000 donation from a council which is then topped up with $400 from Supreme.

It is the goal of your State Deputy and myself that Ontario be the best jurisdiction in Canada in its support for the ASAP program.

WHY I SERVE AS A FIELD AGENT

Mullin Agency Field Agent, Kim Pacis

In just three years as a Field Agent with the Knights of Columbus, my success story has been transformative. Through dedicated efforts, I have been able to touch the lives of numerous families, providing them with valuable insurance and financial solutions that have secured their futures. By understanding their unique needs and goals, I have guided them towards comprehensive plans that offer protection, peace of mind, and a solid foundation for their loved ones. Witnessing the positive impact on these families' lives has been immensely rewarding and has strengthened my passion for serving as a trusted advisor.

One of the things that really resonates with me was the issuance of the guaranteed issue Disability Income. I had a client who qualified for this, and we were able to get an application in immediately, hassle free! After a few months his health rapidly declined, shortly thereafter, he was making claims towards the disability policy. If it wasn't for this guaranteed, value-added benefit, he and his family would be without his income stream. This was a member that attended a Fraternal Benefit Event in 2021, and I was able to subsequently recruit as an e-member, then write an appropriate policy a few days after.

Another amazing situation that happened was meeting a priest who just newly arrived in Canada. He was able to hear about the fraternal benefits being offered by the Knights of Columbus during one of the Fraternal Benefit Events, and he mentioned that he had no insurance at all! Furthermore, because he was a diocesan priest, his life insurance benefits were minimal. After signing up Father as an e-member, I saw him in person, and he was about to take out a Whole Life Policy for himself that would cover his final expenses. Again, this was a client that I would have otherwise not met unless it was through a Fraternal Benefit Event.

Lastly, I had a situation with a client who was desperately seeking Long Term Coverage. He had attended a virtual Fraternal benefit event through the invitation of a close family. He had almost given up hope in looking for Long Term Care coverage, because LTC stopped being offered in Canada, but I mentioned to him that the Knights of Columbus was still offering it and is indeed the only insurer in Canada that still did. I signed him up as an e-member, and we then proceeded with filling up a Long-Term Care application that covered both himself, and his wife! Again, this was a client that I would have never got a hold of unless it was through an FBE!

In conclusion, being a Knights of Columbus Field Agent has been an immensely rewarding and fulfilling experience. Through the provision of insurance and financial services, I have had the privilege of protecting and supporting families within the community. Witnessing firsthand the positive impact of our work on individuals and their loved ones has been truly inspiring. The Knights of Columbus commitment to serving others and ensuring the well-being of families is deeply rooted in the principles of charity and unity. As a Field Agent, I have been able to contribute to this noble mission while building meaningful relationships and making a difference in the lives of those I serve. The opportunity to safeguard families through insurance has given me a sense of purpose and satisfaction that is truly invaluable!
